WILCOX IS STILL RETREATING.

Reports Say He is Now Making for Waimanalo.

NOWLEIN HEARD OF AT WAILALE.

Widemann, Greig and Marshall Seen at Koolau-One Hundred Men on Duty Up Nuuanu Valley-Quiet Day Yesterday at the Front-Some Firing

A general restful air pervaded the Police Station and military headquarters yesterday.

Universal quiet reigned in the Marshal's office. Officials and men, for a time, were able to gain a few hours' relaxation from the strain to which they have been subjected the past few days. The men in the field reported no engagement with the rebels.

The departing tourists were the most nervous people in town. What they thought the unnecessary red-tape consequent to get their passports gave the chronic kicker a golden opportunity. One man suggested that the Government set off a part of the bungalow for a swearing room. A good many labored under the impression that the Government officers should be at their service. However, each departing passenger received his passport in due season and got on board the steamer in good order.

The list of arrests was swelled during the day by the addition of Palan, Manuel Lobo, S. Kaohiwaena, James Spencer, S. K. Kaloa, Harry Swinton, S. K. Kaloa and Charles Warren were brought to the Station during the evening. Warren was released.

LATEST FROM THE FRONT.

A Belief That Wilcox is Making for Waimanalo.

Lieutenant George King reported at headquarters yesterday afternoon. His appearance was a welcome surprise as he or his men had not been heard from since Thursday night. They left the Panoa camp to go to the head of the Valley. About 2 o'clock yesterday morning Captain Wall's men, stationed at Tantalus, heard heavy firing. They took it for granted that the regulars had met the enemy and that a battle was in progress. The shooting did not last long. At daybreak Lieutenant Kenake and twenty men went out to find Lieutenant King and his men, but returned some hours later without success. They scoured the head of Panoa from Tantalus to Nuuanu without meeting a human being.

Lieutenant King reported that his men were without food and water for many hours. A supply was sent them last evening.

Company B had a hard time also. They did a great deal of scouting on Thursday, and at night they camped on Tantalus. The rain and cold weather forced them to leave the mountain top yesterday. They are now at the Japanese nursery. The men were almost famished, tired and footsore. Provisions were sent them yesterday afternoon. Their bodily ills were carefully looked after by Surgeon Weyson. Captain Wall returned to town in the afternoon for orders. Nuuanu Valley was guarded carefully yesterday afternoon. A detachment of volunteers was resting at the electric light station. They were to climb the eastern ridge last night looking for rebels. A number of men were stationed at C. M. Cooke's place with Captain Camara and T. J. Murray in charge.

Sentries were placed along the road and a strict watch was kept on the mountains. Seven men guard the Pali pass.

Murray and his men expect to be transferred to Wailale today to resume their scout for Nowlein and his crowd. If he goes he will take about forty men with him.

Two men came in from Makapu Point yesterday. They had nothing important to report. Cecil Brown is still there with his men. Nothing was seen of the rebels, however.

Three prisoners were brought to town yesterday. Two were stragglers. The third one was Sam Kaloa. He is a well-known character and is known as the "Fish Market Preacher." He was with Nowlein but deserted him on Monday. He was neatly attired and did not look as though he had been engaged in battle.

It is now believed that Wilcox and his men are making for Waimanalo.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

The mascot of C. M. Cooke's detail is a black cat.

James Spencer, a telephone operator, was locked up yesterday.

The alarm of fire created some excitement about town last evening.

The last report of J. L. Osmer locates him somewhere near Layean Island.

It is now claimed that Sam Nowlein and his men are hiding near Wailale.

A small schooner was seen near the coast on the other side of the island yesterday.

Three men belonging to Company B were sent into town yesterday for medical treatment.

W. M. Chamberlain and Chas. Weight guided Captain Wall's men through Panoa yesterday.

C. M. Cooke is in charge of the Thomas Square guards. He is extremely well liked by his men.

Some of the guards up Nuuanu fired three shots at a native yesterday morning, but failed to hit him.

A number of people are of the opinion that Nowlein's party is located near Perry's ranch at Kailua, this island.

One party of guards fired in another near Luakaha early yesterday morning, but fortunately no one was injured.

No prominent white royalists were arrested yesterday, although it was understood that several were to be apprehended.

A man was seen climbing the eastern ridge of Nuuanu yesterday afternoon. Soldiers were sent after him but returned empty-handed.

It was reported last night that the Government electric light wires had been cut up at the Nuuanu Station. It proved to be unfounded.

Residents are recovering from the excitement of the past week and it is expected that on Monday business about town will be resumed.

Charles Warren's residence out at Beach Grove was searched yesterday by specials. They found one revolver and one hundred rounds of cartridges.

The natives residing in the vicinity of Luakaha, near the Kaulukou place were somewhat uneasy last night. Lights could be seen in many of the houses.

One hundred men are now on guard up Nuuanu Valley between the old ice house and the Pali, making it an impossibility for Wilcox to pass unseen.

Paul Isenberg, Duke of Wailale, is on duty at Thomas Square. The orders on his watch are for him to challenge and the other boys to get behind him and cover.

There was a rumor around town yesterday to the effect that the ex-queen and some of the royalists under arrest were to be deported by the Alameda. It turned out to be untrue.

A native who was found at Wailale on Monday and taken prisoner has cleared himself and is now a member of the Thomas Square squad. He commenced duty last night.

Some Portuguese report that Antonio Rosa was seen in company with Robert Wilcox on Sunday last in Manoa Valley, riding from house to house. The report is not credited at police headquarters.

A message was received from Luakaha last night stating that some shooting was going on above that point. Captain McStocker took up some re-enforcements to that locality. This was occasioned by the report that some natives were trying to make their way down the mountain side near the Pali. Some stones rolling down into the valley led to the belief that the enemy were on the march.

A scouting party returned from out Wailale way yesterday afternoon and reported three empty made graves in a cave, supposed to contain the bodies of natives killed out there during the firing Monday.

The picket detail on School and Nuuanu streets desires to thank Messrs. George W. Smith, Clarence Crabbe, R. Jay Greene and Wm. Cunningham for supplying lunches and extraordinary good coffee.

The Thomas Square squad wish to thank Mrs. O. M. Cooke and others for keeping them supplied with hot coffee and rolls. The boys think Mrs. Cooke should be placed at the head of the commissary department.

Additional sentries were placed around the Station House last night after the fire in "Royalist Row" was extinguished. The premises were examined about 10:30 o'clock by Attorney-General Smith and Minister King.

A telephone line-repairer brought in a report that Widemann, Greig and Marshall had been seen in Koolau yesterday on the mauka side of the hills near a pass in the mountains. They were journeying toward Waimanalo.

A report came in early last night to the effect that a body of natives were assembled at Luakaha, Nuuanu Valley. A squad of volunteers were to climb the mountain in that vicinity, and no doubt were mistaken for rebels.

Fred Lowrie and H. F. Wichman visited the Kamoiliili crater yesterday and found a carbine, a cartridge belt and a Smith & Wesson revolver, supposed to be the property of Louis Marshall. But one cartridge was taken from the belt.

The King street Thomas Square guards were treated to a table d'hote dinner Thursday morning at the expense of the Chinese vegetable vendors. First course, raw cabbage; second course, cucumbers; third, carrots and turnips; dessert, bananas.

Dr. Grossman, on being relieved from duty on Young street last evening, instructed the relief guard to photograph anything that passed, that he might see what it looked like. Doctor claimed that nothing passed him but a dog the four hours he was on watch.

Charles Bartow, one of the deserters from Wilcox's camp, has experienced the misfortunes of war to a marked degree. He went out as a lieutenant. Being accused of a lack of fealty to the cause he was reduced to the rank of corporal, and finally wound up as cook.

At 8 o'clock last night a telephone message was received at police headquarters from F. A. Schaefer, stating that a number of people were assembling at the Kaulukou premises, near Luakaha. It was learned later that some of the guards up that way had taken possession of the house.

Guards were placed at the entrance of the Oceanic dock and gang planks leading to the steamer Alameda yesterday, and no one was allowed to go aboard without a pass from military headquarters. The tug Elen, with an armed detail aboard, accompanied the steamer out to sea to prevent anyone getting aboard from off Diamond Head.

Optum Brown Gone.

"Opium" Brown has left the town. He stowed away in the Australia, and is now in San Francisco. He informed several friends that he would return to Honolulu in a few months with another consignment of merchandise. The reason he stowed away was not because he was out of funds, but because he was afraid to go near the Custom House for a passport. He could not purchase a ticket without one, so he decided to board the vessel and pay the purser for his transportation.
